we want to do

Help us, to help th

With 14 state of the art operation theatres, modern medical equipment and facilities, all catering to international standards in healthcare, the Operation Theatre Complex, built at a cost of Rs 300 million, was a dream for the Dow Medical College graduating class of 1978 who realized the desperate need for quality surgical facilities for the underprivileged in Karachi.

Today, the OT Complex provides cancer, paediatric, ophthalmological, laparoscopic, gastrointestinal, gynaecological, ENT, facio-maxillary, otorhinology, vascular and plastic surgery services. With an auditorium in its premises, it has also played a vital part in the education and training of students and professionals in a number of important medical disciplines.

While the rising cost of healthcare has meant we are struggling to cope with the needs of our patients, we have yet to stray from our mission.

those who cannot afford state-of-the-art health care.

"The Dowites78 Operation Theatre Complex is a unique endeavour of Dowites. It will not only provide effective and efficient surgical care to the poor and deserving population of Sindh and its neighboring areas but will also provide opportunity for research and other academic pursuits."

Dr. Ishrat ul Ibad Khan

The Chancellor Dow University of Health Science & Honorable Governor of Sindh

"It pleases me to know that the dream of the Dowites of '78 to provide free treatment to under privileged patients by installing state of the art facilities within 14 operation theater complexes in Civil Hospital has been materialized."

Abdul Sattar Edhi

Founder and President of Edhi Foundation

We need your help to continue our commitment.

So our patients can continue to depend on our expertise when affordability does not give them a choice to live.
